Moultonborough's Long Island Boat Ramp to be Closed for Repairs

The Long Island Boat Ramp, located at the Town's Beach facility at 62 Long Island Road, will be closed for repairs on Monday, June 22, 2009. The repairs are expected to take three days and the ramp should be re-opened for weekend use.

The recently reconstructed ramp was damaged sometime in the fall of last year in a way which caused the concrete blocks to heave into the air. The repairs are being undertaken by DBU construction of Epsom NH and will cost about $7,900. A little over $6,100 of that is being covered by PRIMEX the Town's insurer.

Carter Terenzini, the Town Administrator, said "It is always unfortunate when you have to take such an actively used facility out of service. Fortunately we should be able to complete the work in time for folks to enjoy their weekend." The town's other two boat ramps at Lees Mills and States Landing will be unaffected by this closure.
